Printing

SETTING	VALUE
Material	PLA. PETG works for the Shadow Fleet too.
Layer height	0.16 mm or lower
Z contouring	On
Infill	10% or more

- Lay each cannon so the flex arm's layers run across the bend, and print a spare or two.
- Print masts lying flat.

Putting It Together

THE SHIP (ONCE)

1. Stretch a thin rubber band around the rim of the wheel.
2. Push the wheel into the slot under the stern. It should be snug but still spin.

CANNONS

- Plug the cannon into any open slot on a ship or an island.
- Drop in a cannonball and press the arm down until it fires.
- You can pull a cannon and move it to another slot between shots.

FITTINGS (EVERY GAME)

- Masts, cargo and barrels plug into the deck.
- Sails slide down over the masts.
- Each hit knocks off one fitting. How many you have is on your faction card. A bare hull sinks on the next hit.

FLAGS AND ISLANDS

- Slide a paper flag into the slot at the top of a mast.
- Islands sit straight on the table. Plug a short mast in to fly your flag.
- Island toppers go on top of anything the right height. Same cannon slots and flag holes as a ship.

What a game needs

Each player brings a fleet printed from its list, 20 coins, one or two islands with a short mast each, the faction card and some paper flags.

The table needs 2 to 6 rocks and reefs. With three or more players, put a rock at each end of every fleet's line. Add the wind dial if you play Trade Winds. A 6 ft round table or a 6 or 8 ft folding table works well.

You also need a thin rubber band for every wheel and a cloth bag for the coins.

The islands, coins and terrain come with the free base set: cannonsandcoastlines.com/print-list/base-set.
